George Seideneck home

Blaze destroys major portion of historic house

Two sections of the lovely George Seideneck home on Miramonte Road were destroyed Sunday afternoon, by fire which broke out in the kitchen area. Seideneck was not home at the time and the flames were spotted by Joan Baez and her husband, David Harris, from their home on an overlooking hill.

When the Carmel Valley firemen arrived, Harris was on the roof attempting to hold down the blaze with a garden hose, but flames were already shooting from the roof.

Loss is estimated as at least $10,000, which does not account for many antiques which were destroyed.

Seideneck and his late wife, Catherine, combined their artistic talents in the home which was begun in the early 30's. The kitchen was particularly unusual and beautiful with handmade carved cabinets and woodwork, combined with brick and tile. Several years ago, the home was one of the most attractive and unusual studio-type houses on the Carmel Valley artists' tour.

Four pieces of equipment and 21 men worked for 3 hours extinguishing the blaze. They were joined by a fifth unit which had been at the Cannery Row Fire Prevention Show.

The solid construction of the adobe house was a hindrance rather than an advantage to the firemen who had difficulty getting to the sources of the blaze. Four by four beams in the kitchen had already been burned through when firemen arrived, which led them to estimate that the fire had been going for at least 20 minutes before it was noticed.

FIREMEN INJURED

Two firemen were slightly injured. Art Harber received minor burns and Bill Parham suffered a sprained ankle when he slipped.

Seideneck, who arrived home before the fire was brought under control could give no explanation and investigation is continuing. Arson is not suspected.

THE GREAT PUMPKIN IS ALREADY HERE!

PUMPKIN FACES designed by leading Peninsula Artists will be featured in the Arts Coordinating Booth at the Del Monte Center Community Fair on Friday and Saturday. Alan Drew admired the variety of designs created on the pumpkins.

Artistic CV pumpkins at Fair

The time of the Great Pumpkin is here with the great orange faces from Wolter's Carmel Valley Market for sale at the Arts Coordinating Council Booth at the Del Monte Center Community Fair on Friday and Saturday.

But these are very special pumpkins, having been decorated with designs by local artists when they were green-on-the-vines and allowed to mature in the fields until nature healed the cuts into heavy beige colored welts on their hard golden surface. They are quite hard enough to last as festive decorations until well into the Christmas season.

Early in August artists Alexander and Marion Weygers, Howard Bradford, Merilyn Brown, Dick Crispo, Al Parker and Peter Partch braved the prickly pumpkin vines of the Wolter fields in Carmel Valley to hold a "cut-in" under the guidance of Weygers who originated the idea of pumpkin sculpture in his own garden in past years.

Fancier tools were discarded in favor of long sharp nails which proved to be the best tool for the job and birds, rural scenes and grotesque faces began to appear on the green and half-grown pumpkins. Large tears of juice poured from the eyes of one sad character as the faces emerged under the artist's hand.

After the "cut-in" everyone had a gay lunch under the trees at the Weygers' rustic home in Carmel Valley and went on their way leaving the rest to nature and the Valley sunshine to complete their work. Even they are now amazed at what they have wrought as they see the designs enlarged and slightly changed in shape and of course in entirely different colors than when they left them on the vines.

The Arts Council booth at the Community Fair in Del Monte Center is #43 and is located opposite the upper entrance to Macy's on the Mall area. In addition to free information and literature about its many member arts organizations the Council will also have for sale some small pots, planters and pendants made for them by Peninsula Potters of Monterey who have designed them especially to incorporate into the decorations the joined-circle design which is becoming familiar as the Arts Coordinating Council's insignia and appears on all of the Council's publications.

Hours of the Community Fair will be 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday and 10 to 5 p.m. on Saturday.

CARMEL VALLEY artist-photographer Jerry Edlund strikes a whimsical pose in a self portrait. Jerry's studio is in the new Bernadelli Square art center and recently he photographed the various artists and craftsmen who have shops or studios in the building. See pages 8-9 for his photographic studies. A series of magnificent photographs taken during rehearsals of Alice in Wonderland at the Tantamount Theatre are on display at the Encounter in the Village. The puppets seem truly alive under the hands of the Tantamount crew and under the lens of Edlund's camera.

THE TIKI SAYS
Now that the days are getting shorter house plants should be given a little more care. Light is less intense and the room humidity is normally a little drier. To add humidity to your plants you may set them on a tray of pebbles with water covering about half the thickness of the pebbles. Don't let the pots sit in the water.
It is time to plant several types of bulbs now, come in and check our line of first quality bulbs. Planting instructions are printed on each package. We also have fresh 1969 garden and flower seeds. We are located in the heart of the valley at the Carmel Valley Shopping Center.

Every once in a while you might get a call from someone who's selling something over the telephone. Most of these callers are considerate. But if you've ever heard from a salesman who couldn't take your polite no's for an answer, you know it can be annoying. Well, the thing to do then is simply hang up. If the calls continue, let us know. We want your phone to be a convenience, not a nuisance.

Maybe you've been surprised to hear your Information operator answering lately in a new way—"Directory Assistance." And maybe you've wondered why the change. It's just this: "Directory Assistance" actually is a better description of her job, which is to help you find a number that isn't in your phone book. And here's a helpful hint: Jot down the number next time you have to call "Directory Assistance" for help. You'll have it handy when you want it, and save making two calls again when one will do.

Did you hear the one about the minister vacationing in Monterey who decided to call another minister back home? Getting the operator on the line, he asked her to place his call. "Will this be station-to-station?" asked the operator. "No," said the reverend. "Parson-to-Parson."

Safety and service for Valley motorists

While driving through the Village the other day, we noticed a large truck parked on the strip in front of Bank of America and we watched a motorist inch her way out of the B of A Parking lot drive, trying in vain to see if there was any traffic approaching from the left.

This is not unusual...we have done the same thing many times, as this is a favorite parking spot for many larger vehicles. Although they pull up as far as possible on the high shoulder, behind the tree, it is still a tremendous problem to see around them.

Although it would involve walking about a half a block, we would think it would be a lot safer... and certainly a lot more considerate if drivers of these trucks would park in the huge lots between the library and the Grapevine. It is difficult enough to see while coming out of that lot and one of these days, someone is going to get a well-mashed fender at that intersection,...just because they couldn't see what was coming.

Another thought while driving after dark in the Village...What a community service the filling station owners in Carmel Valley could perform if they would get together and work out a system by which one of them would stay open late in the evening each night. They could take turns...perhaps for a week at a time...perhaps for two nights.

Many's the time the need has arisen for an unexpected trip to town, or the airport,...or to the hospital, and residents have been caught with an empty tank.

It's a long way to hold oen'e breath and listen for the fatal sputter...all the way to Monterey or Salinas!

SCHOOL NOTES

Middle School Newsletter

BY PRINCIPAL ORVILLE ROGERS

Middle School enrollment hit 800 on Friday, an increase of 68 over last year's opening enrollment. This, of course, posed a few problems and problems like this negate many hours of pre-planning for a smooth opening day. Because of pupil increase, plus I.B.M. and human errors, we had to regroup most of our fifth and sixth graders.

While this caused some concern it did prove that our schedule was flexible enough to move students in some areas without disrupting their entire schedule. If we are to effectively team in the fifth and sixth grades we must be able to regroup according to pupil needs.

HOME WORK

Apparently many of our students encounter homework for the first time at Middle School. To ease this transition we have scheduled homework in most subjects in all grades with heavier assignments in grades seven and eight than in fifth and sixth.

At our first department heads' meeting last week we adopted a homework schedule with recommended time allotments so that students would not be loaded down with homework assignments on any one day.

COUNSELORS

Our counselors, Mrs. Joan Shay and Mr. Jay Criddle, have divided their responsibilities by grades this year. Mrs. Shay will be working with fifth and seventh graders and Mr. Criddle with sixth and eighth graders. They suggest that you call between 8:15 and 9:00 a.m. for questions or conferences. This will allow them to schedule the rest of the day for working with individual students.

STREAMLINED READERS

Miss Brazell's Reading Elective is off and running this year with an interesting activity connected with the upcoming elections in November. They will be studying party platforms, political speeches and ads.

They are hoping that the students will get first hand experience by working at campaign headquarters, the voting polls and meeting the candidates.

The general idea will be the study of fact or opinion and what constitutes propaganda.

Each of the students will draw a name of a candidate - local, state or national or that of a campaign manager. They will then assume the character of that person and prepare a speech which will be given for the public shortly before elections.

FIELD TRIPS

Two interesting field trips are already in the planning stages for Middle School students. The fifth grade science classes will visit Point Lobos on October 9 and 10, and all seventh graders will make their annual visit to the Egyptian Museum in San Jose. The latter trip is in connection with the seventh grade world geography class.

IN SHORT

NAMES OF PLACES in the United States and their meanings are a fascinating study. A book called "Names on the Land" by George Stewart traces the development of this and origins of many unusual names from happenings or people who inhabited places in pioneer days.

In Carmel Valley, we have a number of interesting names of streets dating from Spanish origin. Quien Sabe in Robles del Rio, for example, means "Who knows?" Salsipuedes Road (also RdR) means "Get out if you can."

The address was "Half Swack Bay". We'd love to know the origin of that name!

HARVEST

While now is the time of the harvest yield
In October fog and November snow,
When the loads are hauled from the fertile field,
It is well to take stock of the status quo;
For whatever we planted we soon will know.
And the sum of it all for loss or gain
In the final account must certainly show:
Then who but ourselves are left to explain?

We probably think mistakes are concealed
As we warm ourselves by the fireside glow,
But sooner or later all is revealed;
For the wrong that we do or the crops we grow
Are accounted in balancing what we owe.
For what we have sowed in conduct or grain
Is there to confront us for credit or woe.
Will then conscience listen when we complain?

Regardless of what our beliefs may embrace,
Wherever we go and whatever we face,
It's better by far if our efforts have won
That final approval for all we have done.

SPORTS

CHS gridders

Although Gonzales High scored first in the opening quarter and stayed ahead during the first half, Carmel High varsity blasted off in the final half, winding up with a smashing victory of 27-7, Friday night at Gonzales.

It was a particularly pleasurable league opener for the local lads, for it was their first triumph over Gonzales in 3 years.

Padre JVs did exactly as well as the varsity with another 27-7 win, although the freshmen went down 21-0.

The first home league game of the season will be with Hollister this coming Saturday afternoon.

CHS track

Pacific Grove was first with 46, King City second with 53, Hollister third with 57, Carmel next with 74, York fifth with 131 and Gonzales sixth with 173.

Coach Baskerville lauded returning varsity lettermen Matt Ward, who took first in the good time of 11:39, and Mike Lundblad, who scored a second in the excellent time of 11:46.

Promising runners in their first meet included Tom Pelton in 12:35 and Larry Frye, 13:42. Steve Most made 13:27; Phil Goulding, 13:49; Jim Vanlandingham, 13:51; Kit Causey ,-15:07, and Ted Weller 15:09.

Directors named to fill 4 vacant Chamber seats

Directors were named by CV Chamber of Commerce president Tom Bottaro to fill 4 vacancies on the board of directors at last week's meeting. Bottaro named Joe Ricupero to fill the term of Mae Youngberg of Town and Country Properties; Scott Rambach of United California Bank at Carmel Rancho to replace Dick Brinton of Brinton's Hardware; Ramona Weir of Crocker-Citizens' Bank at Mid-Valley, to replace Ralph Updike, motel owner; and Warren Douglas of Douglas Disposal to fill the unexpired terms of Joan Bennett, owner of Carmel Valley Market. Douglas will continue for another year. The other 3 positions terminate this year.

Fifteen others were named as nominees for the 1969 board. Ballots will be mailed to Chamber members who will vote on 10 out of the following names: Will Fay, Ken Van Hagen, Luis Wolters, Scott Rambach, Rex White, Pat Swan, Bob Kvenild, Paul Porter, Dru Dunn, Mary Clark, Joe Ricupero, Al Smith, Theo Mirani, Tom Verga and Dr. Clancy Van Horn.

In other business, President Bottaro requested the Chamber to join with the Lions, Kiwanis and other Valley organizations with the CVPOA in a bi annual cleanup day. A representative will be named to work with Property Owners Association on the project which was suggested by Ed Bivens, County Health Dept.

Residents would be asked to clean up their private properties and the commercial area of the Village would be covered. Special trash pickups would be arranged for that day.

OUTLOOK ON CARMEL

A SCENE FROM last year's Sand Castle Contest on Carmel Beach. The sand sculpture was entitled "Daly City". (Photo by Jody Cooper)

Sunday, Oct. 20, has been set for the popular competition when adults can "legally" join the kids playing in the sand at Carmel Beach.

Only this is serious business. Last year there were over 200 entries in the two categories. Novice Sand Pile takes care of those who are beginning or lack the confidence to enter in the top category of Advanced Sand Box.

The south end of the Carmel Beach at the foot of 13th Street is the location for castle building. Registration will be at 1 p.m. with the judging starting at 2 p.m.

Normally contestants hit the beach early and stake out their spot, bringing lunch and refreshments to carry them through the day. This year, high tide will occur at 10:15 a.m. and will be going out at the time of the castle-building.

This is the seventh year for the Sand Castle Building Contest. It is officially sponsored by the Peninsula chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

It was originally started by the Society for the Preservation of Fun in Carmel (SPOFIC).

For those who may not be familiar with the contest...it is purely for fun! There is no entry fee, no age limit and no rules. Just come to the beach and build something out of sand. In recent years there has been more and more original sand sculpture added to the traditional castles.

Grand Sand Marshall Donald Brown has announced that there will be 25 awards in the Novice division and 15 in the Advanced group. There will also be one grand prize.

Judges will be announced later, but sand marshalls are already named and are ready to go. They are Donald Fancher, Marvin Guillermo, Wes Hessler, Gene Takigawa and Richard Rhodes.

Farming in Alaska described at Valley Kiwanis meeting

Farm production in Alaska was explained to Carmel Valley Kiwanis Tuesday noon by Olaf Aamadt of Canterbury Wood, Pacific Grove, a former member of the USDA food research expert.

The club met for the first time at Rippling River Resort. Annual barbecue with wives was announced for last Monday night at Prince's Camp.

Aamadt's research determined that crops were best in Alaska such as potatoes and forage feed, which encouraged beef cattle and dairy industries.

Pres.-elect George Clifford reported on the District Kiwanis convention he attended in Reno. The club will assist at the Laguna Seca races this weekend.

CHS humanities class is a unique experience

Looking something like the board of directors grappling with the production problems of a new movie, 15 people met recently to discuss the approach and the goals of Carmel High School's Humanities class.

The group, which this week included 3 teachers and 12 students, composes the steering committee for the program, and helps plan the activities for the following week. The overall structure of the course involves the study of 6 great cities in the history of Western man, and concentrates on such questions as: What is the good society, the good life, and the good man?

But the course has a problem which its teachers - Peter Lyon, Ray Gere and Wally LeValley, meet with mixed emotions: There are over 90 students.

Mixed emotions because the teachers are happy that the sign-up for the popular course proved that last year's pilot program was basically successful. And this year, with the class' size doubled and a new teacher added, the 2-hour program has even greater promise for some excitement in education.

Ninety students, however, are a lot, and the problem of communication had to be overcome. That's one reason why the steering committee, which varies in its make-up each meeting, was formed. After 2 weeks of class, the students chose 6 members to act as small group discussion leaders and to help form the nucleus of the committee.

The elected leaders -Jennifer Spohn, John O'Neal, Fenn Horton, Tom Gardiner, Lindsay Broberg and Jeff Wickham meet one night a week with the instructors to evaluate the past week's activities, suggest improvements, arrange for guest speakers, and basically keep the course as close to the interests of as many students as possible. The committee meetings are open to all students in the class and anyone else who is interested. In fact, the Humanities class itself which meets daily from 10:15 until noon in Brey Hall, enjoys visitors.

Senior citizen driver course to be offered

A course on Driver Improvement will be offered this month at Hacienda Carmel for anyone 55 or over. Sponsored by the National Retired Teachers' Association and the American Association of Retired Persons, the opening day will be Monday October 14, with 3 additional meetings. The second will be on October 16, the next on Oct. 21 and the final one on October 24.

The class will meet from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the Casa Fiesta at Hacienda Carmel.

Designed to help the older person understand the vehicle code and improve his chances with the driver's test, it is also expected to help the insurance rating of the elderly.

Members of either sponsoring organization may enroll for a fee of $1. Others will be charged $4 for the course.

JIM HALL IN THE PITS during last Spring's Laguna Seca races. He will drive a Chaparral again in next weekend's competition.

Oct. 11, 12, 13

Competition is keen in Sunday big Laguna Seca race line-up

With 3 races already completed, the upcoming Monterey Grand Prix Oct. 13 looms as the most important speed contest to date in the $526,000 six-race Canadian-American Challenge Cup Series for Group Seven sports cars.

Between the drivers and the pot of gold lies the famed Laguna Seca Road Course, a twisting 1.9 mile ribbon of asphalt that winds through the hills on the outskirts of Monterey.

SPECTATOR COMFORT

Nearing completion at the track are more than $150,000 worth of improvements designed for added spectator comfort. There are new grandstands seating 5,000, enlarged parking areas and improved roads into the track, and a relocated, expanded pit area where the cars may be seen more easily from the grandstands.

DENIS HULME LEADS

Defending Can-Am champ Bruce McLaren is still very much in the running as is Texan Jim Hall.

With the exception of Hall, and his Chaparral, all of the top drivers in the point standings are piloting McLarens powered either by Chevy or Ford mills developing in excess of 600 horsepower.

At the mid-way point in the 1968 series, Hulme leads the way with 18 points followed by Donohue with 17, McLaren with 12, Hall with 8, Lothar Motschenbacher with 5, Peter Revson, Swede Savage and Sam Posey with 3, Carmel's Chuck Parsons and Richard Brown with 2, and popular Dan Gurney and Charlie Hayes with 1 each.

Points are awarded on a 9-6-4-3-2-1 basis for the top six finishers in each race.

Tickets for the Oct. 11-13 race weekend are available at the SCRAMP Headquarters in the Monterey USO building, British Motors, Wester Motors and the M.P. Chamber of Commerce.

Foreign film to be shown at MPC

"Two Daughters," an award-winning film directed and produced in India by Satyajit Ray, will be screened at Monterey Peninsula College Friday, Oct. 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the new lecture forum on campus.

The showing is the second in the college's "International series" for the fall. Tickets, at $1 for adults and 75 cents for students may be purchased at the MPC community services office between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. weekdays, or at the auditorium door on the performance night. Season tickets priced at $3.50 - still a bargain covering the 5 remaining films in the series - are also available at the college or by mail.

Divided into 2 parts, "The Postmaster" and "The Conclusion," the film reveals the warmth of love and the blindness of lovers.

Denny Zeitlin Trio to perform at MPC

The Denny Zeitlin Trio, a jazz group led by jazz pianist and composer who is also a psychiatrist, will perform Friday, Oct. 18, at 8:30 p.m. in the Monterey Peninsula College music hall.

Tickets, at $1 for general admission and 75 cents for students, may be purchased at the MPC Administration Bldg.

Swim Club has 15 openings

An invitation to join the Cypress Swim Club was issued this week by Don Squire, volunteer coach of the nationally famous synchronized swimming team.

The club has openings for 15 new members according to Squire, undefeated National AAU men's solo champion, as he announced that try-outs for these positions are being held this Thursday, as well as next Tuesday and Thursday, at 5 p.m. at the Carmel High School, at the pool.

Membership in the club is open to any girl residing on the Monterey Peninsula who is between the ages of 8 and 16, who has maintained a B average in school, and who has learned the basic swimming strokes.

The 15 accepted after preliminary qualifying tests will undergo a 4-month training period, after which they will become full-fledged members, eligible to participate in AAU competition next year.

Any girl interested in joining is urged to attend try-outs on any of the above days, with bathing suit, cap and towel. Parents will be given full particulars on the program of the Cypress Swim Club at that time, or may call 659-2446 for further information.

NEW RACER

Racing enthusiasts of the future can no doubt expect to see Country Club Way's newest resident behind the wheel of a sports car if he shares the thrill of the accelerated racer with his famous father, a nationally ranked racing driver, Don Wester.

Scott C. Wester weighing 7 lbs. 12 oz. was welcomed by Patricia and Don when he arrived September 28 at the Community Hospital.

His middle initial "C" is an affectionate tribute to both his grandfathers, Carl Wester of Pebble Beach and the late J. Clay Ramsey.

Shortly before the birth of her baby brother, his sister, Stacy celebrated her second birthday. Since she has been so fascinated by planes, her parents chartered a Cessna in Monterey and brought her out for a bird's eye view of Carmel Valley. She returned from her flight a confirmed flier and was ready to go right up in a big one!

The following day guests were invited to Rancho del Monte Resort for a birthday luncheon followed by a party with balloons and all of the trimmings at the Wester home. Attending were her cousins, Christi and Tricia Klump, her grandmother Mrs. J. C. Ramsey and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rudl of Monterey.

WELCOME

A warm Valley welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Lorenz who have purchased the home of Henriette and Les Jewett on Toyon Way. The new family who made temporary quarters at the Valley Lodge until their van arrived are formerly from a resort area near Annapolis called Sherwood Forest. Known before World War I as a 'summer community', the Lorenz couple were among the fortunate one third who made the area their permanent residence. Located on the beautiful Severn River, it boasted a summer camp with a full schedule of competitive activities in operation, open to the children of permanent and summer residents alike.

Roy, a member of the Schillings Company is the new human relations manager at the Salinas plant. Carol laughingly refers to her maiden name as "a Gardner in name only" in being involved with the busy schedules of their two daughters, 9 year old Debbie who is in the 4th grade and Connie, 11, who is in the 6th. Both girls are students at Tularcitos.

CHAPEL BRIDGE

The September bridge and canasta party sponsored by the Carmel Valley Community Chapel was held at the La Rancheria home of Mrs. Elbert Wade with Mrs. Fred Clark and Miss Barbara Wade assisting as hostesses. The latter was responsible for the gay hand-made tallies, a sunburst design of multicolored California sun colors. The center pieces awarded as table prizes were miniature arrangements of dried grass and grain placed in tiny peat pots. The unique assortment had been harvested by Barbara from seed which had been scattered about the Wade grounds for the wild birds.

Enormous bouquets of zinnias displayed about the rooms had been contributed from the gardens on Live Oak Lane of Mrs. Norman Bungard.

Among the winners were high in bridge, Mrs. Fred Reynolds, second high - Mrs. Tom McKiernon and the canasta award to Mrs. Vera Stokes.

Welcomed to the group was a new Valleyite, Mrs. Bill Lowther, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Skinner, who moved into the Lowthers' Carmel home when they became full time Valley residents.

LIBRARY ASSISTANT

INDIANS

That tribe of Indians seen scouting Robles del Rio and lurking about the Village last Wednesday afternoon was finally identified - once the warpaint was scrubbed off (in the bath tub) - as guests invited to the 6th birthday party of a little brave on Esquiline Road, Todd Kenyon. With two Indian princesses (Gay Kenyon and Robin Harris) assisting with party preparations, the children were taken to Todd's home where they donned feathered headdresses and warpaint. Using old drapes and sheets, they constructed a teepee on a frame that had been built for the occasion, and then left their completed 'wickiup' to hunt the mythical herd of buffalo.

Returning to the Indian encampment for ice cream and a birthday cake topped with cowboys and Indians were: David Skaden, Garth Hattan, Steven Harris, Chris Fosso, Gay, Robin and Todd. The guest of honor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Halley.

INSURANCE AWARD

A Robles del Rio resident, Thor Rassmussen of Upper Circle, was one of 3 representatives of Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co. honored last weekend at Del Monte Lodge. An award for a summer-long sales contest sponsored by the company was made to Mr. Rassmussen during the 3-day session at Pebble Beach.

SEALED LIPS

The well-worn cliche "My lips are sealed" does not amuse Joe Bottaro these days; however he would like his many friends (particularly the admiring small-fry met while serving as life guard last summer at the Community Pool) that he is not being unfriendly when he does not answer their greetings.

Joe had an accident Sunday on a bicycle. He was road-testing a bike which he had repaired for his sister and does not remember how or where the accident occurred.

The next thing he does know is finding himself at home with a broken jaw, chipped teeth, injured wrist and numerous cuts and bruises. Joe was able to return to school Wednesday at Carmel High where he is a Freshman. However he communicates with a pad and pencil since his jaw is wired shut, and his diet consists of liquids through a straw. A speedy recovery!

VILLAGE PARK

A handsome tanned tourist in Bermuda shorts accompanied by an adorable preschool daughter in a sun suit stopped at one of the Village stores recently and asked directions "to the Village park". His expression (one of complete disbelief)...his question (worthy of a slogan)..."But where do you swing your children?"

A number of years ago, Doreen McKenzie had a great idea while watching classes at the Community swimming pool, - 'How great it would be', she thought, 'to have some playground equipment and a few picnic tables in conjunction with the pool and Community Center area? That year the Lions Club Wine and Rose Ball committee worked with the inspiration that any profit made from the Ball would go to establish a play area that could be added to over the years.

A goodly profit was made, but the Center Board felt that it wa s necessary to channel the funds from playground to operating expenses. Many of the youngsters who would have benefitted from that original 'drive' are in high school or college, and even in military service, but the need still remains for a public family-type facility.

The Valley populace has been known to organize and move mountains. Actually this project only entails a small hill!

JUNIOR HI B-B-Q

BIRTHDAY AT WILL'S

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Enos Fouratt, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Womble and Mrs. Edward Anderson.

Carmel Middle School parents to meet Tuesday

The Parent-Faculty Club of the Carmel Middle School will hold its first meeting of the current school year on October 15 at 8 p.m. in the Stuart Mitchell Library.

After meeting briefly in the library, parents will be invited to visit in one or more classrooms of their choice and hear a presentation by the teacher of material to be covered in that particular subject this year. All classrooms will be open to parents for their inspection, and scheduling will be explained.

Returning from individual classrooms, a general meeting will be held in the library at 9 p.m. Refreshments will be served and the opportunity extended to meet and talk informally with the faculty.

Greeting parents will be this year's Parent-Faculty Club Board members; president - Mrs. Clyn Smith; vice president - Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ricupero; secretary - Mrs. Lester Golden; treasurer - Mrs. Frank Bresk.

A most cordial invitation is extended to all parents to attend.
